Benefits of Belonging

Our South Central Wisconsin Chapter provides an active community of professionals dedicated to Workplace Learning and Performance (WLP) who share extensive knowledge, experience and resources. Our Chapter was the first established in 1969. We have a long history of inspiring programs and energetic members. Join now and share your energy and excitement of WLP with our members!

ASTD-SCWC membership benefits include:

Leadership Opportunities

Volunteering in our Chapter just a few hours a month benefits you, our Chapter and your employer in many ways. Serve on the Board of Directors, lead special projects or volunteer with a committee – we look forward to providing a great environment to help grow your career!

Free Pass to a Chapter Program

As a thank you for joining, please accept a “Free Pass” on us!

Discounted Fees for All Programs and Events

Your membership quickly pays for itself as you attend Chapter programs and events at the discounted member rate.

Quality Monthly Programs

High level programming based on the ASTD Competency Model Areas of Expertise including managing organizational knowledge, improving human performance, career planning and talent management, measuring and evaluating, facilitating organizational change, designing learning, delivering training, managing the learning function, and coaching.

SCWC “Learning Changing Developing” Training Certificate

New and experienced trainers alike will build a solid foundation of development, design and delivery techniques based on the categories from the ASTD Competency Model Areas of Expertise. Attending a series of “Learning Changing Developing” Programs in a calendar year will earn you a Training Certificate. And, best of all, you will acquire a variety of new tips, tricks of the trade, and tools that you can implement along the way!

Annual Learning Summit

Join us at the biggest Chapter event of the year to hear a nationally-known expert, network with peers, and enjoy refreshments while learning.

Networking Opportunities

Expand your professional network while attending our Chapter programs and networking events as well as at joint programs with other local professional organizations at discounted rates.
