

There are neither schools nor places of worship within the neighborhood's boundaries; however, Kennedy Elementary School lies three blocks south of Milwaukee Street, and there are two churches along the south side of Milwaukee Street. Neighborhood children attending Madison public schools attend Kennedy or Schenk Elementary School, Whitehorse Middle School and LaFollette High School.

Map 3 identifies neighborhood assets.

Hiestand Park, located in the heart of the neighborhood, is a major focal point for residents for all ages. The sledding hill is a major attraction for neighborhood children.