He joined the Madison Speed Skating Club at age 12, after watching the 2006 Winter Olympics in Torino. In 2008, he began to focus on the long-track version of the sport and joined International Team Milwaukee (ITM), training at the Pettit National Ice Center. After a year of tremendous improvement under Coach Bob Fenn and strong performances in Calgary and Salt Lake City, he earned U.S. Junior Category 1 status for the 2009-2010 season, which means he can proudly wear the USA's colors during long-track competitions. When not training or skating, Luke enjoys fly fishing for trout and salmon with his dad, reading, playing drums and being with friends.

Casey FitzRandolph is a World-class athlete with presentation, promotional and communications experience in the sporting and business communities. Through his 2006 Olympic success on the U.S. Speed Skating team, Casey has vast international and local exposure enhancing brand recognition for business and charities.
